

TORNADO DEATH TOLL GROWS

PRESIDENT SCORES OPPONENTS OF BILL

ROOSEVELT DENIES HE HAS INCLINATION TO BE A DICTATOR

PRESIDENT URGES APPROVAL OF GOVERNMENT REORGANIZATION BILL

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Mar. 31.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, charging organized opponents of his government reorganization program had "planted bogies under every bed," asserted in a letter made public today he had "no inclination to be a dictator."

The letter, addressed to an unnamed friend under date of March 28, urged approval of the measure "in its present form" and replied to charges that the legislation would make him a dictator by asserting:

"As you well know, I am as much opposed to an American dictatorship as you are, for three simple reasons:

"(a) I have no inclination to be a dictator.

"(b) I have none of the qualifications which would make me a successful dictator.

"(c) I have too much historical background and too much knowledge of existing dictatorships to make me desire any form of dictatorship for a democracy like the United States of America."

The letter was made public by Secretary Marvin McIntyre shortly before 1 a. m. (CST). There was no explanation for the late release except that the president made up his mind to issue it before midnight and it required almost two hours to prepare it for the press.

Visited Army Post

The president made his decision while resting from a 120-mile motor trip to and from Fort Benning late yesterday to inspect the troops and equipment of the noted infantry post.

The name of the president's correspondent regarding reorganization was withheld because McIntyre said in a preparatory statement "he did not write for publicity purposes."

In the communication today he recalled that when he proposed the legislation over a year ago all parties and factions agreed on the need of such a measure, but that a year later "a carefully manufactured partisan and political opposition to any reorganization had created a political issue—created it deliberately out of the whole cloth."

At examples of the "bogies" he contended had been planted by the opposition, he said it had been charged that the army engineer corps was to be abolished "in spite of the fact" that congress alone could determine who to do river and harbor work, and that the force.

INTENSIVE SEARCH BEING MADE BY AIR AND SEA FOR PLANE

SIX NAVAL FLIERS VANISH IN WAR GAMES; FIVE LIVES PREVIOUSLY LOST

HONOLULU, March 31.—(AP)—The navy sent 240 fighting planes into the air, and dispatched numerous surface vessels to the northwest of Oahu Island today, in a gigantic search for six bluejacket fliers who vanished last night in an old-style bombing plane.

At the same time it became known that eight sailors had been injured, three seriously, and four boats had been wrecked in the landing of 1,400 men at Lahaina Roads in connection with the current Pacific maneuvers.

Nine boats were swamped in the surf.

Disappearance of the bombing plane occurred only a few hours after the navy's newest bombers crashed at sea, also off the northwest shore of Oahu, with a loss of five men. The two others aboard survived.

Bodies of two of the victims were recovered by salvage craft. One was identified as that of Lieut. L. O. Crane of Nashville, Tenn., in command of the plane.

Definite Routes For "Bluebonnet Trail" Announced

Definite routes for the "Bluebonnet Trail" in Corsicana and Navarro counties were decided upon Wednesday afternoon by a special committee charged with this responsibility and made of the drives are now being prepared by officials of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce announced Thursday morning.

Publicity releases have been sent out to numerous newspapers in various sections of the state within easy driving distance of Corsicana and more than a hundred letters of invitation sent out to clubs in surrounding communities inviting them to tour the "trails" on the next two Sundays, April 3 and 10, when the bluebonnets should be at the height of their beauty. All of the drives will be adequately marked.

Special displays of the native Texas flowers will be placed in Corsicana hotels, and open house will be held at the Chamber of Commerce offices each Sunday afternoon where maps and other necessary information will be supplied to visitors.

In the event of fair weather an additional loop will be included in the northern drive which will take the visitors through the Fred M. Allison ranch where particularly beautiful vistas are available.

NEW POLITICAL PARTY FORMED IN MEXICO TO CARRY FORWARD MEXICO FOR MEXICANS PROGRAM

SENATE COMMITTEE COMPLETED WORK ON TAX BILL THURSDAY

PROPOSAL TO LOWER INCOME TAX EXEMPTIONS REJECTED BY COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(AP)—The senate finance committee completed work today on the house-approved tax revision bill after voting down a proposal to lower income tax exemptions.

A reduction in personal income tax exemptions to broaden the tax base was proposed by Senator La Follette (Progressive). The reduction would have brought millions of new taxpayers under the income levy.

The committee also voted down a proposal by La Follette to increase surtax rates on net incomes between $3,000 and $40,000.

In another section of the tax measure the senate committee re-wrote house provisions to provide tighter restrictions on corporations which seek to dodge taxes by accumulating big surpluses.

Some members of the finance committee had proposed increasing the penalties against corporations which pile up big surpluses in an effort to dodge taxes. The committee already has eliminated.

MEXICO CITY, March 31.—(AP)—A new "party of the revolution" came into being today to carry on the nation's Mexico for Mexicans program, looking toward a society without classes in a socialist state.

The new party of laborers, farmers and soldiers is an intensified governing party, taking over the organization of President Cardenas' former national revolutionary party. Barba Gonzalez, head of the old party, was named president of the new.

Its proposed platform, presented in convention last night, carries a call for "progressive nationalization of big industry (like expropriation of $400,000,000 foreign-owned oil industry)."

The taking over of the oil industry from 17 American, British and Netherlands owners brought vigorous opposition from the United States, asking how Mexico would pay indemnity, and today there were indications of a possible split in Cardenas' hitherto solid congressional support.

A special session of congress will take up the oil question April 11. It was ascertained that before then at least ten senators were preparing to ask the president how Mexico would find foreign markets for the oil; what would the government do about the mining industry, likely to be handed hit by United States suspension of silver purchases and a drop in the world price; and how would Mexico pay for the oil properties.

There has been speculation, without official action that the oil companies might be paid in oil, although their spokesmen did not favor this; or that the company management might continue to support which would be derived from the new members had not been compiled around noon.

AUSTRIAN NAZIS WHO FLED TO GERMANY AS TRAMPS RETURN IN FULL GLORY STORM TROOPERS

By A. D. STEFFERUD
SALZBURG, Austria, Mar. 31.—The Austrian Legion came home today.

These Austrian Nazis fled to Germany in 1933 and 1934 as outlaws, tattered tramps—fugitives from the laws of Engelbert Dollfuss and Kurt Schuschnigg's independent Austria.

They returned as carefully drilled, motorized corps, neatly uniformed as Nazi storm troopers. How many returned was an unofficial secret, but one estimate placed 14,000 in the line that thousands of cheering, weeping home folks greeted.

They were perfectly disciplined—which tended to set at rest rumors that their return would bring vengeance action.

They crossed the Austrian border—now stripped of customs barriers—at Rott, near here, in a

Emhouse Named In Honor Late Col. E. M. House

Emhouse is named in honor of the late Col. E. M. House.

According to information in the history of Navarro County written by Annie Carpenter Love "the first name given to Emhouse was Lyford but when it was discovered there was a town by this name in Texas already it was seen that no post office would be granted under this designation so the name of Emhouse was chosen. Emhouse takes its name from Col. E. M. House, who was superintendent of the Brazos Valley railroad at the time the postoffice was petitioned for. In 1915 the town was incorporated under the commission form of government."

INSURGENT ARMIES AIM TWIN THRUSTS FOR MEDITERRANEAN

ONE ARMY WORKS WAY INTO LEDORA, OTHER THREATENS CITY OF GANDESA

HENDAYE, France, at the Spanish Frontier, March 31.—(AP)—Insurgent Generalissimo Franco today aimed twin thrusts toward the Mediterranean and deadly severance of government Spain.

The central army worked its way through the suburbs of Lerida, ancient city and fortress, 80 miles from Barcelona and but 45 miles from the coastal city of Tarragona.

The right wing, 42 miles to the south, menaced Gendesa, an outpost also on the road to Tarragona. This force already had crossed the Aiguas river, five miles west of Gendesa, and was slightly closer to the coast than the army investing Lerida.

Insurgents were attempting to surround and isolate the government garrison in Lerida, the castle that defends the Segre river valley which has been described as the "gateway" to Barcelona.

The city was virtually deserted by civilians. The defenders had blown up electric plants inside its

Install Public Address System In Lee School

Representatives of the Carver Sound Equipment Co., Inc., of Dallas, installed an RCA public address system in the Robert E. Lee school here Tuesday, and the system was in operation yesterday and today. The school's parent-teacher association sponsored purchasing the equipment, and is planning a carnival at the school Friday evening to assist in paying for it.

The master control panel is located in the office of Miss Sarah Holman, principal, and there are loud speakers and "talk back" microphones in each of the building's nine rooms and the auditorium-cafeteria. The control panel contains a radio and a phonograph record pick-up unit. By manipulating a series of control switches the operator of the panel is enabled to send radio programs or phonograph record music through the loud speakers into any one, group or all of the rooms.

One of the interesting features of the public address system is the "talk back" microphones, which are built into the loud speakers in each of the rooms. The operator may cut the equipment into any room and hear recitations with or without knowledge of the teachers and students.

FIVE MIDWESTERN STATES SWEEP BY SEVERE TORNADOES

THIRTY-TWO ARE KNOWN DEAD AND NEARLY 250 INJURED BY STORMS

(By The Associated Press.)

Splintered homes in the wake of tornadoes that struck five mid-western states yielded more bodies today and raised the death total to 32 persons. Nearly 250 were injured, hundreds were homeless, and unofficial estimates placed the damage at more than $1,000,000.

The twisting storms, laden with hail and torrential rain, struck hardest in central Illinois, where at least 10 were dead. Next hardest hit was southeastern Kansas where seven, including three children, were killed.

The Kansas storm struck about noon yesterday. It started in northern Oklahoma; later drifted into southwestern Missouri. Five were known dead in Missouri storms.

About sundown what apparently was a separate storm twisted across Illinois from the southeast, dipping to earth in the Pekin area. Rushville and Astoria also were hard hit.

Another twister lashed at Heber Springs, Ark., killing four persons. Then it swung up through southeastern Missouri, accounting for three of Missouri's dead at Newville. An early Arkansas blow had killed a woman at Conway.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Baird, both about 55, were killed when wind demolished their home near Minnerton, Ark.

The three-mile wide Illinois storm left an estimated 85 persons injured. Six of the dead were at South Pekin. Mrs. Roger Norris was killed when a series of tornadoes struck near Chicago. Mrs. Homer Sullivan was picked up and tossed to her death as she stepped from a church, and Hilco Johnson, father of six children, was killed when the twister demolished a railroad roundhouse.

Six killed around Pekin. Six others were killed in and around Pekin. At Venice, Va. Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago and Northwestern Railroad depot and roundhouse were demolished. About 150 passenger and freight cars were strewn in fragments alongside tracks.

Injured from storms around Pekin were being concentrated there. Sixty were taken from South Pekin, a village of 500, five miles south.

Staff Sgt. Ralph Goar mobilized 50 deputies for relief duty around

BRITISH HOPE OF PACT WITH ITALY TO STOP HITLER HELD UP AS DEFINITION OF OPTIMISM

By DORRICK MCKENZIE
NEW YORK, March 31.—(AP)—An excellent definition of optimism is contained in England's announced hope of countering the expansion of German power in Europe by making a pact of friendship with Italy.

Mussolini may make an agreement which will ease the tension between Italy and Britain in the Mediterranean area. He is hardly likely, however, to enter any undertaking at this juncture which will bring him into conflict with Hitler.

The reason is that Hitler has rebuilt Germany into such a mighty power that his friendship is a gift of price, and his enmity is something no continental country cares to encounter. Mussolini is too enmeshed in a tangle with Hitler unless he has to.

Germany's annexation of Austria—formerly buffer between Italy and Germany—has made a world of difference in Hitler's viewpoint. The Fatherland now is not only much stronger, but it extends bang up against the Italian border.

A German military force sits at the Brenner Pass, great gateway into Italy. Hitler and Mussolini are sworn brothers now, but the latter knows his history too well not to remember that most of the numerous Teutonic invaders have reached Italy through this broad pass.

One doesn't intend, of course, to make too much of a fuss over Brenner Pass. The essential point is that Germany is again powerful and that Hitler is the dominant figure in Europe. It is difficult to imagine any

BUSINESS DECLINE SHOWN IN ELEVENTH RESERVE DISTRICT

IN SEVERAL LINES LEVEL OF ACTIVITY LOWER THAN FOR YEAR AGO

DALLAS, March 31.—(AP)—The monthly business review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas released today, records a decline in business and industry in the eleventh district in February.

In several lines, it says, "the level of activity was lower than in the corresponding month last year."

Countering this was a two per cent gain in the value of department store sales over February, 1937. Notwithstanding, the review says, "consumer buying at department stores in this district, which was very active in January, increased by a smaller amount than usual in February." An increase of about 12 per cent in daily average sales from January to February is customary, the review explains.

The increase over a year ago, however, was maintained in the first two weeks of March. Wholesale trade showed little change from January to February and continued 10 per cent lower than in the comparable period of 1937, the review says. Petroleum products

EFFORTS TO UNSEAT JUDGE GRAVES FAILS IN DECISION TODAY

AUSTIN, March 30.—(AP)—Motions seeking to unseat Judge Harry N. Graves of Georgetown from the position of criminal appeals failed in that court today.

Judge Graves' eligibility was challenged in motions for rehearing of two minor criminal cases from Ellis county. Attorneys for the appellants said he could not continue on the court because when appointed he was a member of the legislature which raised salaries of the judges.

Presiding Judge W. C. Morrow and Judge F. L. Hawkins decided the question, with Hawkins writing the opinion. Judge Graves was disqualified himself.

Judge Hawkins said Graves' eligibility could be attacked only through quo warranto proceedings and the court of criminal appeals was not the proper tribunal for such a case. He cited several precedents of both the United States and state supreme courts.

"If this court is without power to determine the eligibility of Judge Graves," he wrote, "any expression thereon would not amount to an adjudication of the question, and we have no disposition to attempt the exercise of a jurisdiction which we do not have."

The present effort to raise the question of the eligibility of Judge Graves is a collateral and not a direct attack. The holding of the courts is quite uniform in all jurisdictions and that such a question may not be raised collaterally.

The opinion sustained the contentions of Lloyd Davidson, state's attorney before the criminal appeals court, and sustained the contention of the Governor Dan Moody and Charles L. Black of Austin.

Secretary Hull ADMITS RIGHT OF MEXICO SEIZURE

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—Secretary Hull formally acknowledged Mexico's right to expropriate American oil properties today but demanded adequate payment.

The secretary of state issued a statement in which he said he hoped a "fair and equitable solution" would be reached by the Mexican government.

"This government has not undertaken," he said, "and does not undertake to question the right of the government of Mexico in the exercise of its sovereign power to expropriate its properties within its jurisdiction."

This government has, however, on numerous occasions and in the most friendly manner pointed out to the government of Mexico that in accordance with every principle of international law of equity, the properties of its nationals so expropriated are required to be paid for as compensation representing fair, assured and effective value to the nationals from whom these properties were taken.

RICHLAND-CHAMBERS CREEKS OVERFLOWED LOWLAND DISTRICTS

TOTAL OF 2.62 INCHES RAIN FELL IN CORSICANA IN THREE DAY PERIOD

All major creeks in the county overflowed their lowlands during the early part of the week following heavy rains over the weekend. The rain Monday afternoon brought the total fall for three days to 2.62 inches, ordinarily not enough to cause overflows, but the heavy rains on the watershed near the source of Richland and Chambers sent these big creeks out of banks Sunday and Monday. The additional rain filled the feeder creeks and the high water threatened rail, interurban and highway traffic several days. Very little damage will result from the rains except in the overflow sections. Lands were washed to some extent in the hill sections by the heavy rain Monday afternoon. No hail or strong winds were reported in Navarro county.

HEARING CONDUCTED DISTRICT COURT ON CHARGE OF CONTEMPT

District Judge Wayne R. Howell stated he believed Charlie Murray was guilty of contempt of court after a hearing lasting several hours Thursday, but reserved the amount of punishment to be meted out to him. Murray recently was found guilty of violating an injunction restraining him from violating the prohibition laws and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail on two cases. A motion for a rehearing was granted and was heard today.

J. C. Jacobs, assistant criminal district attorney, represented the state, while A. P. Mays represented Murray.

Porter L. Williams, of Waxahachie, a state witness, testified he purchased Ten-High whiskey from Murray at "Murray's Place" on Highway 31 on March 4 and 5. He said he paid $1.10 per pint for one pint on each occasion.

The L-Man said he received no commission on convictions, said he received $150 per month salary, described his clothing at the time of his alleged purchasing of the whiskey. He said he went to Smith's filling station and was directed to Murray's Place.

The defendant took the stand and denied having violated the injunction since it was granted, Jan. 5, this year, and denied selling any liquor since that time. He said Smith, a competitor, sells company gas and he (Murray) sells East Texas gasoline. He said Smith had been quoted as saying he (Smith) would get him (Murray) out of business. Murray denied ever seeing Williams, the L-Man, and denied being in Corsicana on either of the two dates mentioned, but was in the vicinity of Cayuga, Henderson county. He also denied that W. M. Cooper state L-Man stationed here, had seized a quantity of whiskey in a car in front of his place. He said Mrs. L. C. McCrary was connected in the ownership of the property and was a sister of W. U. Brown. Murray is a brother-in-law of Elmer Keel, he said.

W. U. Brown, wholesale beer and gasoline dealer, said he sold gasoline to Murray and further stated on the morning of March 4 Murray came to his place and asked to get a ride on a truck to Malakoff and left in a truck with Fred Keel. He declared he did not believe Murray had sold any whiskey since the injunction was granted and said Murray had refused to sell him (Brown) any whiskey.

Fred Jeffers testified Murray left with him in a truck early in the morning of March 4 and left him at Malakoff.

Rupert Sims and Herman Owens, residing near Cross Roads in Henderson county, said they saw Murray at their homes on the dates. They fixed the time as one of Sims' children's birthday was March 4. Did Not See Murray.

Jerrie Keel, owner of the Neel Bottling Company, said he delivered soda water to Murray's Place daily and he was not present on those dates.

Mrs. L. C. McCrary said she worked in Murray's Place on the week end in question from Friday morning until Sunday at noon and he was not there during that time. She said she had seen in a newspaper story where she had been enjoined from violating the prohibition laws some time ago but had never been served with a copy of the injunction yet.

Jesse Murray, brother of the defendant, testified his brother was not at the station March 4-5. He admitted he (Jesse) was under an injunction and admitted he had pleaded guilty to contempt of court and served three days in jail. He said no whiskey had been sold at the place since that time.

Smith Dasher, Waco, L-Man, said the criminal district attorney's office, had requested men he sent here to check up on Murray. He said Williams' veracity never had been previously questioned.

SPANISH

TARBES, France, March 31.—(A.)—One thousand Spanish government militiamen, cut off from their base by a new insurgent advance east of Jaca, escaped across the Pyrenees today into the tiny French mountain hamlet of Hospice de France.

They surrendered their rifles and arms without resistance, and said a thousand others were on their way to France from the Pyrenees sector.

Mobile guardsmen rushed to the town at the call of the Hamlet's mayor and found the weary, hungry soldiers stumbling down mountain trails from the mountain heights.

The militiamen said they had evaded guards placed by the Barcelona government to prevent deserters reaching France. They said they were convinced there was no other way of escaping the insurgent onswep.

As the numbers arriving increased French mobile guardsmen escorted them down snow-covered trails to the nearby town of Bagnares de Luchon.

Arrangements were made for temporary camps in which the refugees will be sheltered and fed until the interior ministry decides what to do with them.

The mayor of Bagnares de Luchon said the militiamen all belonged to the Pyrenees division and included a number of officers, who said they decided to cross into France rather than risk capture.

"The battle is lost," the mayor quoted one officer as saying. "Our ammunition and food supplies were captured. We knew we had little chance of escaping to the southeast before being overtaken."

treaty barring a military alliance, which England could conclude with Italy that would make even a dent in Hitler's announced program.

An Anglo-Italian pact of friendship certainly might lower Europe's war temperature considerably because Mussolini's challenge to Britain's domination of the Mediterranean area has created several crises. Such a pact will be merely a palliative, however; it won't cure.

Mussolini stands to win, so it would seem, in any agreement with England. Britain having long been mistress of the Mediterranean is obviously making a concession even to discuss the matter with Il Duce.

The Italian dictator is sitting rather pretty as regards London, but he isn't expected to crowd his luck too far in that direction. Hitler reputedly has promised his support to Mussolini in the latter's drive for power in the Mediterranean zone.

The early indication of this was Der Fuehrer's backing of Il Duce in the Ethiopian show. Mussolini will stop to think a few times before making with Britain any pact that would turn Hitler's friendship into hostility.

Life Term Convict Leaves Prison Farm

HUNTSVILLE, March 31.—(A.)—Wynne state prison farm officials searched today for A. A. Bergdorf, 56-year-old state apoplexy patient who walked off yesterday afternoon from his duties of tending chickens.

Bergdorf, native of Big Spring, was serving a 99 year sentence from Howard county on a murder conviction. Prison records showed. He was sentenced Dec.

NEW GOVERNMENT BUYING POLICIES BE INSTITUTED

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(A.)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today that President Roosevelt had ordered new government purchasing policies put into effect to prevent collusive bidding on cement and other building materials purchased by federal agencies.

Morgenthau said that, under orders from the President, cement purchases for all federal agencies will be concentrated in the procurement division of the treasury and all bidders on cement and other building materials will be required "to certify that there has been no collusion with other bidders, or prospective bidders, in the preparation of their bids and they will also be asked to present similar assurances with respect to sub-contractors undertaking mechanical work on the building for the general contractor."

Morgenthau also said that cement bids will be accepted in the future only on the basis of the price of cement at the place of manufacture. This was intended, officials said, to break up the "basing point" system by which practically all cement manufacturers sell cement at prices determined by the destination of the cement. The federal trade commission now is studying evidence to determine whether the cement industry is violating the anti-trust laws by this practice.

UPSET WORLD CHALLENGES SOME IDEAS OF MISSIONS*

Relation of Races and Nations Affected By Recent Events; But Christianity's Primary Message and Mission Remains Unchanged.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Even the scanners of headlines know that there is "something doing" in the big Orient. China holds the center of the world stage at the moment. All the news that comes out of India and Egypt and Syria and Palestine and Turkey and Arabia and Iran implies a ferment of nationalism that is fairly revolutionary. Suddenly, the old order is changing. The human race, welded into unwonted oneness by the world war, is in a ferment without precedent.

"Each breeze that sweeps the East bears tidings from afar. Of nations in commotion. Prepared for Zion's war." This is too grave an hour for platitudes. In a complacent Christian who thinks that all of this upheaval signifies eagerness for the Christian religion, and that a few decades more of missionary meetings and missions and gifts will bring about the conversion of the world, is due to have a sorry disillusionment. The huge enterprise of world evangelism is really facing its gravest crisis: a crisis not to be met by multiplied money and organization.

Signs on the Horizon. Expressed in a few terse phrases, the new conditions confronting Christianity are these: In some mission lands, an extensive anti-Christian movement is in active progress. Turkey has practically put out to former types of mission work.

Large blocs of educated Indians have weighed Christianity and rejected it. Islam, which in many respects is disintegrating, is at the same time witnessing a portentous revival of its faith in Arabia, the homeland of the prophet.

Modern progress in many eastern nations has made the continuance of missionary schools and medical work difficult or unnecessary. Westernized oriental governments are providing for their own medical and educational needs.

Work amongst the old oriental churches is being given up by many missions, in favor of a fresh effort to evangelize Mohammedans and pagans.

All of these altered conditions and others even graver, which touch the nature and form of the missionary message, call for a new, brave, open-minded conference of the churches to face fully the facts of this new world of missionary activity. The rank and file of Christians should be freely admitted to an open discussion of the real problems which today confront missions.

More than the cause of money, at the moment, it needs understanding and great leadership. The missionary message to the churches just now is not the Oliver Twist cry of "More! Steady Feet and Steady Hands."

Light-minded sentimentalists may readily grow panicky in the present situation, of war and revolutions and of intolerant nationalism. Japan's mad outburst of paganism, the choking of Ethiopia's missions by Italy's brutal imperialism; the repressive measures in newly awakened Iran, are all a tremendous setback to the Christian concern for the service of other races.

It is easy to mistake the needs for altered methods for a need for another message. Steady heads alone can assure steady feet. Jesus commanded His disciples to go into all the world and disciple all nations. That is the challenge of the Christian. It is the challenge of the Christian. It is the challenge of the Christian.

EXPLANATION GIVEN 1938 FARM PROGRAM BY COUNTY AGENTS

ROTARIANS HEARD AGRICULTURAL SPEAKERS; MISS WOODROW READS

Explanations of the 1938 farm program, recently approved by 99 per cent of the country's farmers, were given at Wednesday's luncheon meeting of the Rotary club at the Navarro Hotel by W. R. Holsey, county demonstration agent emeritus and by H. C. Robinson, farm agent. Miss Dorothy Woodrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Woodrow, gave a reading.

Blackwell had charge of today's program and Charles Willman and Fred Blucher were appointed as next week's committee. Dr. R. C. Curtis, president, announced the Robert Lee School Parent-Teacher association's carnival Friday evening, and C. S. Dickerson announced the Waco Rotary meeting. The club voted not to dispense with next Wednesday's meeting. It also voted $15 for the YMCA's annual membership round-up and financial campaign.

Mr. Holsey introduced Miss Woodrow, who entertained the Rotarians with a cleverly written dialogue between a sophisticated young lady and the two individuals on either side of her at a dinner party.

Mr. Blackwell introduced former Representative and Senator W. R. Holsey, who is now Navarro county demonstration agent emeritus, who talked on the 1938 farm program and the agricultural situation in general.

He declared that everyone realized that agriculture is the basis of all business and if the farmers' standards of living and production are lowered, the merchants and professional men will suffer. He recalled the horrors of overproduction of cotton and depletion of recent years, and added that the farmers under Roosevelt's direction, have gone a long way to solve the problem.

Mr. Holsey said the United States is at the crossroads of its agricultural life, and if the farmers will help themselves by following the diversified program, he and restoring their soil, the problem will have been solved. The south, he said, is the garden spot of the world "and it is a shame to waste the soil as it has been wasted, when it was possible for every farmer to raise enough on his land to feed himself and his family and have some left over."

He urged the Corsicana businessmen to encourage the farmers in the diversified plan. Five points, of which he outlined in conclusion, and discussed the 1938 cotton program. He said it would cut down cotton acreage about 40 per cent and possibly more and permit between 20 and 25 per cent of the land to be turned into hay and grain crops. There are several other options for the remainder of the acres, which will encourage livestock raising and diversified farming.

Large Number Now Receiving Old Age Assistance

A total of 1,333 persons in Navarro county received old age assistance checks from the state during March for $17,331, the report from the state comptroller's department at Austin, filed in the office of Lonnie L. Powell, county clerk, Tuesday revealed.

The average check was $13 plus per person. In February, 1938, last month, there were 1,332 checks for $17,361.

In March, 1937, a year ago, there were 1,556 checks for a total of $21,304. The average check for 1937 per person was $13.44.

For March this year, there were 223 fewer checks for a decline in the total amount of money received in the county of $3,973, as compared with last year or the corresponding month.

UNITED STATES TO BUILD BATTLESHIPS OF HIGH TONNAGE

GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE FORMALLY NOTIFIED OF INTENTION THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(AP)—The United States formally notified Great Britain and France today of this country's intention to build battleships bigger than 35,000 tons.

Secretary Hull sent notes to this effect to the British and French embassies and the Canadian legation.

The text of the notes will be made public tomorrow.

The United States expects a British note of the same character during the day.

A French note also is awaited but this, an informed source said, will state France's intention to abide by the 35,000 ton limit.

The United States note sets forth that a power outside the London naval treaty—Japan—has raised the presumption, by failure to answer the February note of this government, that it is building or intends to build battleships larger than 35,000 tons.

The note does not propose a new tonnage limit for super-dreadnaughts.

This will be left to further negotiation.

Total damage in Illinois was not estimated, but Police Chief Paul Smith of Alton, where the storm struck later, said damage there would exceed $200,000.

Columbus, Kas., bore the brunt of the Kansas-Oklahoma-Arkansas-Missouri storm. All seven Kansas towns known dead were killed there. A strip ten blocks wide was virtually leveled. At least 50 buildings were destroyed and 100 persons were injured.

Three-year-old Buddy Palmer died today of injuries he suffered at Columbus.

Many Families Homeless.

Sheriff Fred Simkin of Cherokee county said 200 families were homeless. He estimated damage at Columbus at $100,000 but other sources said it would be at least $300,000.

Quick work by teachers saved 100 pupils at Highland grade school in Columbus. The building was virtually wrecked. Near Clatsop, Kas. Miss Virginia Sappington led 20 pupils out of her rural school and ordered them to lie in a ditch. The building was heavily damaged.

Three inches of rain added a threat of floods in Oklahoma and Kansas. There were no fatalities in Oklahoma, but 15 persons were injured in the five counties the storm covered. The village of Holm was razed.

Six Red Cross workers from midwestern division headquarters at St. Louis were at Columbus, Mo., at Pekin, four in Missouri, 12 in Arkansas and 10 in the Alton, Ill., district.

Weather bureau officials at Kansas City said the storm began when warm air from the Gulf of Mexico clashed with a cold low pressure area.

Arkansas Tornado Death Toll Grows

duction and the value of construction contracts awarded were lower than in either the preceding month or the corresponding month last year. Bank debits declined seasonally from January and showed a moderate decrease from February a year ago.

The review encouragingly reports, however, that department store trade in this district continued at a relatively high level, the February index being only slightly under the average for the last quarter of 1937, and a little higher than in the corresponding month last year.

The increase of 2 per cent over a year ago in the value of sales at reporting firms, the review says, "contrasts with a decline of eight per cent for the country as a whole." Department store stocks, it reports, were about 6 per cent lower on Feb. 28 than a year earlier.

Commercial Failures.

The review quotes Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., that the number of commercial failures in this district in February was 25, the same as in the preceding month, but liabilities rose from $217,000 in January to $245,000 in the subsequent month. In February, 1937, there were 18 insolvencies owing $218,000.

Rain and snow in the eleventh district in February were generally favorable to the agricultural and livestock industries, the review says. Since the breaking of the drought in the western portion of the district, moisture supplies are normal or above, in virtually all areas, although farmers have made good progress with field work in recent weeks, land preparation still is behind schedule in some areas. Planting of corn has become general in the southern half of Texas and seeding of cotton is under way in South Texas.

Since the rain, winter wheat in the Texas Panhandle has shown considerable improvement but it has not recovered fully from the effects of high wind and moisture deficiency in earlier months. The crop in other sections continued to make rapid growth. The oat crops is in generally good condition in all areas, the review says.

Commercial truck crops in South Texas have made good growth under stimulus of favorable weather. The department of agriculture reported the condition of ranges in Texas March 1, the review says, was the highest for that date since 1932, and there was further improvement in the first half of March.

CORSICANA, TEX., APRIL 1, 1938

AS THE DANES SEE US

While Ruth Bryan Owen was American minister to Denmark she kept scrap-books of news about the United States printed in Danish newspapers. They are curious volumes. More than half the items are about crimes. There are also stories about our marathons—flagpole sitting, and the rest—and about so-called American sports such as frog racing. "I wish," she says, "more news about our typical citizens who live on Main Street, gives to the needy and supports civic enterprises, were sent over. Why can't we send what is representative or what is recognized fiction?"

Movies made here and enjoyed in Denmark also give a false picture of American life, she adds. The people of a Copenhagen church, after seeing a Hollywood movie about a chain gang, held a special meeting to pray for Americans in that tragic situation.

We don't know whose fault it is that the Danes are told only unflattering and unrepresentative stories about life in the United States. Everything we read about the Scandinavian countries is of the most dignified and self-respecting kind. We learn of their thrift, their social progress, their enlightened laws, and so on. Do they have better publicity agents than we have?

Most Americans have never seen a flagpole sitter. Can't we prove that to the Danes?

YOUTH CAMPS.

Dr. Jay B. Nash, professor of education at New York University, thinks we might well borrow an idea from the totalitarian governments—government provision of camps for all young people. But that is as far as he would go in taking over any Nazi or Fascist treatment of youth.

The camps would take boys and girls off the streets and away from various bad influences. They would provide wholesome, constructive activity. Run as they should be run in a democracy, they would be free of all dictation from overhead. In fact, children in such camps should learn much about democratic procedure and co-operation.

The CCC has already tackled part of this job. Private camps for Girl and Boy Scouts, Camp Fire groups, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. camps, and a host of others have provided just such opportunities for young people. There are charity organizations which send youngsters from city slums to country camps and farms for a short time every summer. All of these camps do what Dr. Nash recommends, but they reach only a fraction of the children and young people who need them.

Certainly the summer camp and the winter recreation center are activities which should receive the support of every intelligent citizen, but many will question whether they should be the concern of the federal government.

Observing those Russian trials, a fellow feels like dispensing with the evidence and recommending the daisy-petal system.

The reassuring factor of the current depression is that nobody is worried about the banks.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1934, Edgar A. Guest)

THE TYRANT BUSINESS

When the Stalins and the Hitlers get at last to wear the crown
They know the force that praised them may as swiftly tear them down.
So once seated in the palace they begin to fear the mob,
For they find the tyrant business is a rather risky job.

They view with grim suspicion every stranger they may see;
Every shadow is a menace where some foe may lurking be.
Even friendships have their hazards. Should a comrade start to climb,
It is just as well to shoot him now as any other time.

They talk a lot of freedom and the preach of human rights
But they've got to kill their rivals if they don't want sleepless nights.
So they call them in and shoot them with their backs against the wall,
But the trouble with the business is they never get them all.

"LAWFUL" AGGRESSION

One of the curious things about the German dictator is his regard for "legality." It has been pointed out that, in the rough and irregular course by which he has risen to supreme power in Germany and won point after point against allies and neighbors, he always claims some legal authority.

This was the case in his original parliament house coup, his seizure of the chancellorship, his blood purge, and so on. He might break precedents and establish tyrannies in defiance of basic law, constitutionality and ethics, but he has always managed to find a legalistic pretense.

Thus in his seizure of Austria, a country as independent as Germany by the law of nations, he invited Chancellor Schuschnigg to Berchtesgaden and bulldozed him into appointing a German stooge—Arthur Seyss-Inquart—to his cabinet. Seyss-Inquart then became Austrian Chancellor when Schuschnigg resigned under threats of military invasion, and the German troops that arrived and took possession of Austria came at Seyss-Inquart's official invitation. So it was all in due legal form.

PHARAOH'S QUARRY

British archeologists have found the quarries worked by the Egyptians 5,000 years ago when the tyrant Cheops was having his great pyramid built. They have been covered by sand since 1700 B. C.

The ancient workings were about a quarter of a mile long. At the scene was found a black granite stone bearing the name of Cheops and the name of the locality, "hunting grounds of Cheops." Other discoveries were a heavy copper chisel, workers' huts, and an ancient road worn by hoofmarks. The road led to the river, sixty miles away from the quarry.

This discovery doesn't solve any of the problems confronting the world today, but it is fun for the archeologists and continues the work or creating those long-forgotten days. The puzzled modern European, or American, might be somewhat comforted by these discoveries. They give a longer view of humanity and remind us that civilizations rise and fall without stopping life. Perhaps we may some day use our knowledge of the past to improve our behavior in the present.

CURFEW IN REVERSE

The residents of Baxter, Tenn., must be patient and kindly folk, with good nervous systems. At least, they have borne without violent protest the voluntary services of a human alarm clock whose hobby would not be popular in most towns.

Fourteen years ago this citizen decided to take upon himself the task of waking the folks up in the morning. Every day at six o'clock he climbs a pole in his back yard and from its top sends the bugle notes

A Lesson in Good Neighborliness

CLEANLY SLUM-DWELLERS

An ancient slander against our city poor seems to be disposed of by the testimony of Capt. Richard L. Reiss, a British housing authority, who has been studying American housing projects.

Going from house to house, in the various resettlement and slum-clearance areas, he has poked his nose into every room and closet and basement, giving particular attention to the bathrooms. He says flatly that the tenants are not using the bathtubs for coal-bins. Moreover, he declares, in 19 cases out of 20 the bathtubs are as clean as anybody would want them.

Many other observers, more casual in their inspection, have reported that the low-income families provided with better homes, at rents they can afford to pay, really seem to take pride in them, and on the whole are taking better care of them than they did of their old quarters.

THOSE TWO CARS.

When there are two cars in every garage, an advertising man suggests, one of them should be a tiny car for town use and the other a large car for comfortable long-distance travel.

It sounds sensible. Most of our cars have perhaps twice the size and power we need for getting around town or taking short drives anywhere. Their seats are usually not more than half filled. They take up unnecessary room on the streets and in the garages, make needless trouble and expense for parking, cost more than they would need to in the first place and more for upkeep. Most people in European countries learned this long ago, and acted accordingly.

A large car meant especially for traveling might have facilities for two or three people to eat and sleep, without assuming the proportions of a motor trailer. It is strange that comfort-loving Americans have not developed such a snug "land yacht."

of reveille into the morning peace. He performs this "service," he says, in spite of the fact that none of his neighbors ever "requested" it.

An outsider can't understand why they have never requested him not to do his daily bugling. Perhaps they are good sleepers.

Gold's flowing again from Europe, which needs it to America, which doesn't; and they call it "wise money."

MORE INCHES AND POUNDS

The American college girl continues to grow. The 1938 girl is taller, heavier, broader-shouldered and generally stronger than her mother and grandmother. Measurements recorded through the years at many colleges show this.

There are various reasons for the steady development. Exercise and the popularity of athletics receive first credit. Other factors are better nutrition in infancy, less communicable diseases, higher standards of living, better understanding of health needs and hygiene.

There is no particular value in increased stature alone. But there is much of economic and social value in the changes which have produced the better developed young people. There is the greater freedom which has made sports and athletics possible for girls. There is the economic saving through better health and less illness.

So far, unfortunately, there is little evidence that these gains are accompanied by gains in mental power or spiritual understanding. Human beings today seem on the whole to be no farther advanced in these qualities than their parents or grandparents. Here is a field for the special attention of educators and religious leaders.

Timber Wolf Is Killed By Dogs On Wheelock Farm

Depredations of a large timber wolf several miles east of Corsicana on Chambers creek among chickens and sheep were halted shortly after noon Tuesday when he was killed by a pack of dogs.

Thatched together after Nello Thompson had wounded the animal with a shotgun earlier in the day. The wolf was cornered on the R. L. Wheelock farm after he had escaped from the hunters who came to Corsicana and gathered nine wolf dogs from local sportsmen. Those present reported that despite his wounds, the wolf put up a terrific fight when cornered by the pack after a mile chase.

The animal was sighted and shot in a big thicket on the Wheelock farm. The flood waters from Chambers creek had apparently driven him from his hole in the thick timber along the creek bottom.

Dogs were secured from Gene Allen, Marvin Wallace, Leroy McAfee, Frank Cartledge, all of Corsicana, and Virgil Hanes of Powell. All joined in the hunt except McAfee, and were with Willard Parker, Thompson and Kenneth Price for the kill.

After the wolf had been killed, the dogs jumped a fox and a real chase was seen.

Strength During MIDDLE LIFE

Strength is extra-important for women going through the change of life. Then the body needs the very best nourishment to fortify it against the changes that are taking place. In such cases, Gardol has proved helpful to many women. FUTURE FARMERS OF POWELL IN ANNUAL BANQUET FRIDAY

POWELL, March 29.—(Sp.)—The Powell Future Farmers of America held their annual banquet honoring their fathers and special guests in the Powell high school auditorium Friday night, March 25, under the supervision of J. C. Miller, their adviser.

Of the 85 guests expected 82 were present. The program was carried out with best arrangements from beginning to end, showing that the boys had given due time to their preparations and had good training.

The program was opened by the Future Farmers regular opening ceremonies, used at meetings. Edwin Bancroft, reporter of the chapter gave the welcome address.

Dr. W. W. Carter of Corsicana, a former citizen of Powell, with interesting and well chosen words gave the response.

Following Dr. Carter's talk the guests were served a nice and well prepared dinner. Six senior girls were waiters.

Miss Tessa Dickson was president and read a picture of the entire assembly.

Mr. Holsey of Corsicana was introduced by the master of ceremonies, Howard Jackson.

WALTER WOODUL IS NOW CANDIDATE FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

LIEUT. GOVERNOR PROMISES ENFORCE TEXAS ANTI-TRUST LAWS

HOUSTON, March 31.—(P)—Walter Woodul, twice Lieut. Governor of Texas, announced for attorney general today with a promise to enforce the anti-trust and oil laws and conduct a non-political office.

The bespectacled Houstonian, who served terms in the Texas senate and house before being elected Lieut. Governor first in 1924, has served 15 times as acting governor during absence of Governor James Allred.

Woodul said he planned to make an active campaign "on my own merits, visiting as many sections as the time permits and discussing frankly issues involved in the race."

"If elected, I shall safeguard to my utmost ability the interests of the people of Texas and of the public schools in the public domain," Woodul said. "I shall enforce the anti-trust laws, the oil laws and all other laws it may become the attorney general's duty to enforce."

Woodul received a record-breaking vote for Lieut. Governor in 1934 and was unopposed in 1936 polling heavily.

Woodul, while a member of the state legislature, advocated passage of laws for a unified highway system, better schools, improved social conditions, improved labor conditions and laws intended to aid farmers and livestock raisers.

estry service was to be "hamstrung—hamstrung I suppose by the best friend forestry ever had in the United States."

He mentioned other like charges and added: "I cite these merely as examples of a score of equally silly nightmares conjured up at the instigation either of those who would restore the government to those who owned it between 1921 and 1933, or those who for one reason or another seek deliberately to wreck the present administration of the government of the United States."

Referring to the bill's provision making executive orders a bureau shifting subject to disappearance by congressional "joint" resolution within 60 days, the president said if such a resolution were passed he would "in the overwhelming majority of cases go along with the bill, with the congressional action."

"I can think of no cases where the president would not gladly yield to a clear expression of congressional opinion."

In giving two "cogent" reasons why the bill should be passed in the present form, he said a "concurrent" resolution turning down presidential orders—which some opponents have proposed—was questionable constitutionally because it was only an expression of congressional "sentiment" and could not repeal executive action taken in pursuance of law.

Difference Cited

A "joint" resolution must be approved or rejected by the president, whereas a "concurrent" resolution does not go to him for action. Some opponents favor the "concurrent" form to prevent the possibility of a veto, thus forcing congress to reject an executive order by a two-thirds vote.

In stating his second reason, the president referred to the "remote possibility" of a veto, adding: "I repeat that I visualize no such possibility between now and 1940 when the authority given is to end."

"Thus," his letter concluded, "you will see that charges of dictatorship are made out of the whole cloth—even if I wanted to be a dictator, which, heaven knows, I do not."

The president said there were two methods of effecting a bureau-like reorganization—"by complete and detailed legislation by the congress" or by the chief executive doing it subject to disapproval by congress.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 31.—(P)—Evelyn, said today they feared deaths among persons who had been treated with cancer serum might mount to ten.

Mrs. F. E. Moonort, 63, of Winter Park, Fla., died this morning. Six other women died early yesterday.

Two men and a woman—E. S. Bolte, C. S. Pore and Mrs. Lydia Morris, all of Orlando—were reported near death from a tetanus infection (lockjaw) in hospitals here today. Another patient, Mrs. Ola Hall of Orlando, was under treatment after developing symptoms of tetanus.

A coroner's jury met and requested Dr. H. C. Connell of Kingston, Ont., Canada, inventor of the serum called Ensol, to come here to aid in investigations being conducted by county, state and federal medical authorities.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 31.—(P)—A seventh woman died today while a coroner's jury assembled medical witnesses in an investigation of a series of deaths which followed injections of a serum in cancer treatments.

Mrs. F. E. Moonort, 63, of Winter Park, Fla., succumbed early today. Six women who had been given injections of the serum died yesterday. Four other persons are in hospitals with symptoms resembling those of tetanus.

Dr. T. A. Neal said the seven dead and the four presently ill had been given injections at his clinic. The serum came from one bottle. Physicians said one other person may have been treated from this container.

Varied Comment on President's Letter

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(P)—Friends of the administration's reorganization bill termed "a perfect fake" and "an admirable statement" today the letter in which President Roosevelt expressed his opposition to the bill.

Representative Snell (R-N.Y.), the house republican leader, used the "fake" expression when he told reporters the president's letter to an unnamed correspondent was "purely an effort to get the front page" and "get people's mind off" the controversial reorganization bill.

Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) proposed to divorce the various branches of the Petroleum industry. He introduced yesterday a bill which would make it a federal offense for any firm or person marketing refined petroleum products to engage also in the production, refining or transportation of such products.

A bill providing fine or imprisonment for the use of communication facilities in the violation of federal criminal laws was proposed by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.).

Adjournment Obstacles

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(P)—Congressional leaders foresaw today three possible obstacles to a speedy adjournment—the wage-hour bill, the Hungarian debt settlement proposal, and railroad legislation.

Democratic Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) said he hoped the senate could dispose of the tax revision bill, the $1,000,000,000 naval expansion program, and the proposed $1,000,000,000 relief measure in April.

This would clear the senate calendar, he said, unless consideration of Hungary's debt program should result in a lengthy senate debate on the entire war debt question.

Rep. Rayburn (D-Texas), house floor leader, said he thought that chamber could complete its present program by May 1. But other members said that if efforts to revive the wage-hour bill are successful, the picture may change.

A subcommittee is drafting a modified measure in the hope of winning greater support.

Kill Long Train Bill

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(P)—The house interstate commerce committee killed today a senate bill to limit the length of freight trains to 70 cars.

The committee clerk said the vote against the bill was 14 to 7. Many groups of railroad employees sponsored the bill, contending that it would reduce materially the number of accidents to trainmen. The Association of American Railroads opposed the legislation on the ground that a limit of any kind would increase their costs of operation—an increase they said they could ill-afford.

New Cotton Formula Satisfies Senators

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(P)—Far Western senators expressed general satisfaction today over a formula reached by senate and house committees for farm action amendments for making new cotton acreage allotments.

Senator Hayden (D-Ariz.) voiced particular gratification at acceptance of his suggestion that in allotment calculations per acre acreage increase, special consideration should be given to counties as well as individual farms where inequalities would have existed.

He described as "generally satisfactory" from the standpoint of the Southwestern cotton farmer should be allotted less than 50 per cent of his 1937 cotton acreage plus acreage diverted from other uses under the soil conservation program.

Propaganda Agents

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(P)—Senate investigators considered today that organizations affiliated with the National Industrial Council served as "distributing agents" for propaganda.

Senator Tamm (D-Utah), presiding at hearings of the senate Civil Liberties Committee, said that was the effect of the relationship between the industrial council and the N. I. C. since the reorganization of the former in 1936.

He made the comment during questioning of William Frew Long, general manager of the Associated Industries of Cleveland.

Long, who said he was active in reorganizing the council into three groups, told the committee local associations often distributed "educational material" for the N. I. C. and the N. I. C. but did so only when they wanted to serve their own purposes.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(P)—Representative Mahon (D-Tex.) said today after a conference with Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, veterans administrator, that a decision would be made in a few weeks on requests for a general hospital in West Texas.

Loves More Valuable

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(P)—Major General H. B. Ferguson, president of the Mississippi River Commission, told the house floor control committee today levees were more valuable than reservoirs as flood protection on the Mississippi river.

Chairman Whittington (D-Miss.) announced the committee, drafting a national flood defense program, would hold morning and afternoon sessions to hear as many witnesses as possible within two weeks.

Rail Workers Insurance

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(P)—Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.) and Representative Cresser (D-Ohio) drafted legislation today to give 1,000,000 railroad workers an unemployment insurance system of their own.

Advocated by the railroad labor executives association, the bill would lay a three per cent tax on pay envelopes of $300 a month or less, to be paid by the carriers.

Any employee earning as much as $150 a year would be eligible to benefits ranging from $1.75 to $3 a week.

The bill would remove railroad employees from the various state unemployment insurance plans which railroad labor contends do not adequately cover railroad workers whose employment is interstate. It probably will be introduced in the senate and the house tomorrow.

Would Divorce Oil Industry

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(P)—Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) proposed to divorce the various branches of the Petroleum industry.

He introduced yesterday a bill which would make it a federal offense for any firm or person marketing refined petroleum products to engage also in the production, refining or transportation of such products.

A bill providing fine or imprisonment for the use of communication facilities in the violation of federal criminal laws was proposed by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.).

FUNERAL RITES FOR COL. E. M. HOUSE AT NOON THURSDAY

HOUSTON, March 31.—(P)—Colonel E. M. House, the mild mannered little Texan who rose to power in national and international affairs during the World War, was buried with simple rites today.

Flowers were heaped upon his grave by close friends and relatives as death brought him back to the land of his birth, which he left almost half a century ago.

He died Monday in New York, where he had lived since his move from Austin, Texas, in 1912 to be near his close friend, Woodrow Wilson, who, when he became president, leaned heavily on Colonel House for advice.

Only the widow, other relatives and close friends attended the service in Glenwood cemetery at high noon. The Rev. James P. DeVolve, Episcopal minister, committed to the grave with the simple Episcopalian burial service, that was the manner in which Col. House had wanted to be buried, simply as the private citizen he always been.

A wreath made of dark tulle, with sprays of artificial palm leaves, from President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, accompanied the body to Houston from New York. The wreath was placed in the center of the grave.

The casket spray was a mass of Easter lilies. Spray bouquets of bluebonnets and Indian paintbrush, Texas wild flowers, formed the pillow of the grave.

A rose and carnation wreath in two shades of pink was sent by Joseph A. Avenol, secretary general of the League of Nations.

Flowers were sent by Richard E. Bennett, former premier of Canada, now leader of the conservative party of the dominion. The service at the grave lasted little more than 10 minutes. Rain dripped on the canvas canopy.

Fierce Fighting Continues Today In City Streets

SHANGHAI, March 31.—(P)—Hand-to-hand fighting raged in the streets of Tientsin today as the 17-day battle between Japanese and Chinese along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway went on without decisive result.

Tientsin, located on a narrow-gauge branch railway east of the main line, was in flames. Meanwhile, a new Japanese threat at the vital east-west Lunghai railway corridor was directed from the south in hitherto unscathed North Kiangsu province.

Foreign military observers said a strong Japanese column had advanced from the city of Nanjing, 100 miles south of the Lunghai.

The observers considered the maneuver important as it offered a threat to crush Chinese defenders at the Grand Canal between the column moving up from the south and the Japanese forces along the Tientsin-Pukow railway.

SENATOR BORAH IN NEW ATTACK ON OIL COMPANY OPERATIONS

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(P)—Senator Borah (R-Idaho) charged "four or five big oil companies" today with controlling the price of gasoline and oil.

"You will find no competition in price," Borah told a state judicial subcommittee. "That's been true for four or five years."

The veteran foe of monopoly made these observations at a hearing on a bill by Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) to require separation of marketing petroleum products from production, refining and transporting.

E. F. Remington of Reading, Pa., representing independent station owners told senators the big oil companies now used "the Iowa plan" to avoid chain stores, social security, and other taxes.

Remington said the plan first tried out by big companies in Iowa was to rent or lease company-owned filling stations to former employees.

"A station worth $30,000 may be rented for $75 a month while an independent station of the same type with an overhead of $300 or $500 a month has to pay exactly the same price for gasoline," Remington said.

"It threatens to put all independent dealers out of business," Remington agreed with Borah that the "four or five" big companies fix the price of gasoline.

Richard E. Brand, of Baltimore, said independent distributors in Maryland "urged passage" of the Gillette bill to eliminate "tax dodging and to stabilize prices."

No opposition to the plan first tried out by big companies in Iowa was to rent or lease company-owned filling stations to former employees.

"A station worth $30,000 may be rented for $75 a month while an independent station of the same type with an overhead of $300 or $500 a month has to pay exactly the same price for gasoline," Remington said.

PLANNING BOARD HAS RECOMMENDED BIG EXPENDITURES

AUSTIN, March 31.—(P)—Expenditure of $2,418,490 on water projects in Texas river basins was recommended today by the state planning board.

Projects include soil erosion, irrigation, flood control, navigation, stream pollution, sewage disposal, dams, drainage, wild life conservation, topographic mapping, ground water surveys, measurements of stream flow, climatology, of water power, sanitation and disease control.

The board's comprehensive water plan was incorporated in a report on drainage and basin problems of the United States submitted to President Roosevelt by the National Resources Committee.

Recommended expenditures by basins were: Sabine and Neches, $19,064,070; Trinity and San Jacinto, $26,207,645; Brazos and Colorado, $17,287,560; Guadalupe, $10,805,614; Nueces, $24,903,070; Rio Grande and Pecos, $26,224,700; Upper Red, $71,492,200; Canadian, $41,220,000.

"Since all projects in such a water plan cannot be undertaken simultaneously," the board said, "a program involving priorities is necessary. In general, preference has been given in the present study to investigation projects designed to afford information indispensable for proper action."

Projects for which adequate and reliable data are available; to projects involving benefits that exceed costs in relatively high degree; to multiple-purpose projects having relatively high social values for comparatively large numbers of people; to projects of immediate, rather than prospective urgency; to projects not likely to be delayed by legal and other non-technical complications; to projects which it is believed would fit properly into a comprehensive water plan when it should have reached a later and more detailed stage; and to projects already authorized by congress or now under way."

Suit Attacking Validity Jobless, Act Be Heard May

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 31.—(P)—Judge Cullen W. Briggs, 117th district court, said a suit attacking the constitutionality of the Texas unemployment compensation act would be heard probably the second or third week in May.

The suit was brought by 85 South Texas and Rio Grande Valley fruit and vegetable shippers, who contend they are required to pay unemployment compensation taxes two-fold and sometimes three-fold.

Preliminaries have been disposed of in a hearing before Judge Briggs.

ENGLISH CANNOT REMAIN ALOOF FROM AFFAIRS IN EUROPE

LONDON, March 31.—(P)—Viscount Halifax, Britain's foreign secretary, told an international audience today that "the English people have never remained and I think never will remain aloof from what is happening in Europe."

As he struck his blow at British advocates of a policy of extreme isolation, the government laid before envoys of Europe's major powers new proposals for achieving early withdrawal of foreign troops from the war in Spain.

Speaking at a luncheon of the foreign press association, attended by several foreign ambassadors and ministers, Lord Halifax said: "They (the English people) may have their moments or moods in which they like to persuade themselves they can keep out of it, but when it comes down to hard facts I venture to assert they are too sensible to allow those moods to color their judgments."

"This nation intends to be strong and go on building up its strength x x x in order that it may make its voice powerfully heard in x x x Europe."

Members of the nine-power chairman's subcommittee of the non-intervention committee agreed to submit to their governments the proposals made to them today by Britain.

It was the group's first meeting in nearly two months, and the British move to end foreign intervention came as the insurgent armies—with Italian and German aid—were sweeping toward the Mediterranean and apparently toward final victory.

The British plan to end foreign intervention in Spain, where insurgent armies—with Italian and German aid—are sweeping toward the Mediterranean and apparently toward final victory, was submitted to the chairman's committee in its first meeting in nearly two months.

Informed persons said Britain proposed first, a "new formula" for deciding when belligerent rights should be granted the warring factions; second, restoration of control on Spain's frontiers.

Faced with an opposition motion of censure in its Spanish policy, to come before the house of commons Monday, the British government was eager to obtain quick action.

Beauty Diary

of Edna Kent Forbes

HEALTHY SKIN

Read in today's diary how to have and keep a healthy skin. Miss Forbes tells you how easily it is now compared with years ago.

We are gaining in health, year by year, with longer lives, and healthier bodies than a decade ago.

We are checking up on this, too, also learning more and more how to keep in health, once we have attained to it. In spite of the unsettled state of affairs, we are learning how to live and get the most out of each day as we live it. Even our fashions, E. K. Forbes fashions are based upon simplicity, grace, and ease. Our clothes are planned to give us freedom, and so much of it, that once we are in them, we may forget all about them. Think of the bondage that women endured 20, 30 years ago, in tugging around under the weight of her numerous undergarments, the laundry work, too? The time it took to hook, pin, face, button, or otherwise fasten all these so none of it became misplaced. Compare it with what she manages today—a wisp of silk, and a frock, all pulled on in a minute. This has done much in building health, too, as the skin must have a chance, not only to throw off waste, but it must have air surrounding it, cold air, too, is best, that brings about reaction, makes the skin firm, drives the blood back and warms the body healthfully. An example of this is the beautiful legs and knees of children who wear short socks the year around in any climate. They are rosy and warm. Our own faces, we bare to the cold air, and what reaction we may get from that.

too. It is probably the only part of our skin that gets a full chance to act, and the reason, too, that nature uses it for pimples when the other organs of elimination are being overloaded. Less clothing, less bed covering, more air, more sunbaths directly on the body, and we may go on building even faster than in the past.

Mrs. H. J.—There is no advantage in having a small foot any more, and women now wear shoes longer than the actual size of the foot, taking a width that is not so wide. For instance, a three C or D, will be as shapeless as a four A or B, and there will be less comfort, too, in the shoe. However, even though the foot measurement showed that three would have done for it.

C. F.—If you have your hair clipped, I should think that in a month, you will have enough length to the hair to be able to make some kind of an arrangement for becomingness. Another way, would be to clip off some of the dyed portion every week, and always keep to what is becoming arrangement. No one minds this as much if you do not have to go to business. Clip generously each time and you will be rid of the trouble in a month, at most.

Mrs. V. D.—Herb teas are served a great deal now at least. They are healthful, delicate in flavor, and will be used more and more. Some persons now, serve the herb tea, and the regular tea. The herbs to what regular tea. The herbs to what regular tea. The herbs to what regular tea. Alfalfa comes in some, mint will be with this, too, and other herbs.

ITALIANS CALLED UPON TO GET OUT OF LARGER CITIES

CONSEQUENCES OF WAR IN AIR WOULD THUS BE ESCAPED HE DECLARED

ROME, March 30.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini today called on the Italian people to meet the menace of aerial warfare by moving from big cities into small towns, villages and the countryside.

Before a crowded, intent senate, Di Duca told of Italy's readiness for war in a speech broadcast to all Italy and many countries abroad.

He told his people they should quit the cities before it was too late to escape the consequences of war in the air.

By audacious Italy's war-making power, asserting the nation could "completely mobilize in a short time a number of units greater than that engaged in the battle of Vittorio Veneto."

He warned his fascist followers, however, this must not lull them to sleep.

He said, "We must be ready to do it, whatever the cost we shall do it."

Italy's army program, at 5 p. m. (11 a. m. EST), Mussolini finished 40 minutes later.

Calling for emigration from the cities, Di Duca said:

"From this moment I say that all of those who can organize their existences in small towns, in villages and the countryside would do well to do so until the twelfth hour."

"In case of war everything which prevents mobilization (such as civilian movements from the cities) might be prohibited. So much the worse for those who have not foreseen this and are late."

"War from the sky is destined to assume an even greater importance in tomorrow's war."

He recalled that Napoleon once said the Italian would become one day the world's best soldiers.

To become reality.

"That's what we want," he declared.

"We desire that Napoleon's prediction should become one day the world's best soldiers."

This brought the black-shirted senators to their feet, cheering.

Di Duca greeted him with shouts of "Duce!" as he strode into the senate to speak.

United States Ambassador William Phillips was among the diplomats crowding the galleries.

Di Duca outlined the country's armed strength, declaring that the largest naval building program in Italy's history would be completed by 1940 or 1941, or perhaps earlier.

"Italian aviation," he asserted, "is among the world's best."

He went into the advantages of various types of airplanes:

"Our CR-32 (pursuit planes), although inferior to the latest German and Italian types in Spanish skies."

After outlining the fleet Italy soon would have afloat, Di Duca asserted:

"I confirm to the senate that Italy has the most powerful submarine fleet in the world."

He outdistanced all in such a manner that it will be difficult, if not impossible, to cope with us and dislodge us from this position."

Aroused by a three-day propaganda campaign, the Italian people are eagerly waiting the speech, Loud speakers carried Mussolini's words to a big overflow in the square behind the senate and to the expectant nation.

Di Duca started his speech by reciting Italy's equipment for war.

He said the nation had 876 factories employing 580,000 workers producing armaments.

The workers, he said, "have displayed perfect discipline in their work."

Vigorous applause greeted his declaration he intended to keep in his own hands full direction of Italy's armed forces in war time, although the king would continue to be titular head.

He then swung into a review of the navy, asserting Italy had the world's strongest submarine fleet.

He declared that the country's naval building program, largest in its history, would be completed by 1940 or 1941, and perhaps earlier.

CLAIMED FERGUSON TO ANNOUNCE WIFE'S CANDIDACY QUICKLY

AN AUTHENTIC SOURCE DECLARES ANNOUNCEMENT BE FORTHCOMING

DALLAS, March 30.—(AP)—The Dallas Times Herald said today reports from "apparently authentic" sources were that former Governor James E. Ferguson would announce his wife's candidacy for governor "either tomorrow or Friday."

The paper said "a definite assertion that the announcement would be forthcoming, came from a close friend of the Fergusons who refused to permit use of his name."

Mrs. Miriam Ferguson twice served as governor of Texas from 1924 to 1926 and from 1932 to 1934. Her election in 1926 marked the first time a woman had won a gubernatorial post.

The Times-Herald quoted its informant as saying:

"With two representatives of the big interests and a federal administration candidate in the field, it looks to us like a Jim Ferguson year. The people know where he stands, which is more to the point than the other fellows."

"Farmer Jim" long one of the state's most potent political figures, has remained silent on the forthcoming democratic primaries.

He has indicated, however, that a decision would not be made until platforms of candidates had been made clear.

The Fergusons have favored a state sales tax and federal old-age pensions to all persons past 65 years.

Nothing to It Says Ferguson

AUSTIN, March 30.—(AP)—Former Governor James E. Ferguson said today there was "nothing to" a report that his wife, former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, would announce her candidacy for another term as Texas' chief executive tomorrow or Friday.

"The situation is unchanged," he said.

TWISTING WINDS ADD TO DAMAGE OF FLOODS IN TEXAS

TWO DEAD AND AT LEAST TWENTY INJURED IN OKLAHOMA AND ARKANSAS

By The Associated Press.

Twisting winds added to flood damage in rain soaked north and east Texas yesterday, while tornadoes in neighboring Oklahoma and Arkansas left two dead and at least 20 injured.

A small twister wrecked farm homes and outbuildings three miles west of Honey Grove, part of the Gainesville baseball park grandstand collapsed during a storm which uprooted trees there, and a windstorm at Weatherford damaged outbuildings; blew down trees, and whipped orchards.

Two children were killed and at least twelve persons injured by a tornado which struck four miles northeast of Texarkana, cutting a wide swath through farming territory.

A winter which struck two sections of Wilburton, in Eastern Oklahoma, left at least eight

MANY TRENCH SILOS TO BE CONSTRUCTED IN NAVARRO COUNTY

Approximately 40 trench silos will be constructed in Navarro County by Farm Security Administration borrowers, according to E. L. Sponberg, rural supervisor for FSA. These silos, which require no investment except labor to dig the trench, will preserve the fodder of corn and grain sorghums which otherwise lose much of their feeding value. They will also supply dairy cows with the green stuff through winter months or drought.

The trench silo campaign is expected to be one of the chief factors in helping FSA borrowers to a system of farming more profitable than that which forced them to seek FSA assistance, the supervisor said.

The tenant farmer takes a more active interest in the land which he is renting when he begins to make improvements of this kind, Mr. Sponberg said. FSA is seeking to promote longer terms for lease agreements in order that tenants will feel justified in making such improvements, which they would not make if faced with the likelihood of being forced to move at the end of each year.

The silo-building program is being carried out under guidance of the county agent of the Extension Service.

The Corsicana Chamber of Commerce will probably work up some kind of a schedule of cash prizes to be offered as an inducement to encourage more silos. Announcement to this effect is expected from the Agricultural committee of the local chamber within the near future.

Sunday School Meeting

There will be an Associational Sunday School meeting at the First Baptist church in Corsicana at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, with the inspirational program being given by Rev. Grady Metcalfe of Mexia. A large attendance is requested by Mrs. L. L. Roloff, secretary.

'THE REAL COTTON PROBLEM' BE SUBJECT OF JACKSON SPEECH

DALLAS, March 31.—(Sp.)—Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro, who is chairman of the State Cotton committee of Texas, and president of the Texas Cotton association, will be the guest speaker at the Dallas Agricultural club on Monday, April 4th, at its noonday luncheon at the Jefferson hotel.

Mr. Jackson will discuss "The Real Cotton Problem" covering information that the farmer and all interested want to know. He will talk about the work being done by the State-wide Cotton committee with some reference to Secretary Hull's Reciprocal Trade Agreements Program, also to bring to Texas that research laboratory for which provision is made in the farm bill. The work of this laboratory by finding new uses for cotton will offset some of the losses that Texas cotton has suffered in the foreign markets. The cotton quality improvement through the establishment of one-variety cotton communities, better ginning, and the use of insecticides to protect cotton from insect control. Cotton insects at the cotton gins and the pest problem from a full yield and thereby add to the cost of production.

All of these important cotton problems will be discussed by Mr. Jackson, stated Geo. B. Latham, secretary of the club, and the meeting will be open to the public and farmers, and bankers, merchants, and all cotton interests are invited to be present from Dallas and adjoining counties.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

White's Chapel.

Eggs may be served at any meal, and in a variety of ways, Mrs. White Elkins told a group of Whites' Chapel Home Demonstration club women at her home Wednesday.

Mrs. Elkins continued her talk about eggs by saying that in any egg dish the secret was to cook them slowly at a moderate, even heat. She then demonstrated by showing the difference in a properly fried egg and one that was cooked fast and hard.

Since eggs are so cheap, why not try them for a main dish at dinner? An omelette with chopped ham, English peas or green pepper and onions spread on just before turning makes a healthy, delicious main dish. Then you can make souffles and custards that will tempt any jaded appetite. Look in your cook book and find and use these recipes or write to A. and M. College for U. S. bulletin "Eggs at Any Meal" leaflet No. 38.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Northera Batts, served sandwiches, punch and cookies.—Reporter.

Philips Chapel 4-H Club Girls

In the last meeting which was at the school house last Friday at 10:30, Miss Clara Rettiger discussed the improving of your dressing table and the bathing center. She showed all different kinds and designs for bath towels, bathing and soap tray. If the wash table does not have a drawer then you can take an apple box and put it on four small blocks, and tack them to the four corners of the box. Then to fix the table where the box won't show you should tack a curtain around the table. Let it hang about one-half inch from the floor. Then you put a mirror above the stand. At the end of the wash stand put your towel rack.

At the next meeting which will be on April 15, the 4-H Club girls are going to start making their bath towels and bath mats.

Dinner is in...

Three P. M. and mother has just placed her dinner in her electric cooker. She has a four-pound roast and three vegetables in the cooker. She started the cooker pre-heating at twenty minutes of three, she will now leave it on high heat twenty minutes longer. There was really little work to getting this meal in the cooker.

Mother is free...

Mother's sewing club meets at 3:30, so she dresses and prepares to leave the house with a free mind. There is not the slightest danger of fire from the electric cooker. Cut to low heat it will not burn her food, even if she were an hour or so later than her usual dinner hour. And, she knows her meal will be deliciously pleasing to her family. This, she feels, is real freedom from kitchen cares.

Dinner is Ready to Serve...

At a few minutes to six mother returns home. She is unhurried. Without changing clothes (slipping on an apron) she sets the table and at 6:15 "Dinner is Served!" And what a delicious dinner. Tasty. All the food value of meats and vegetables retained. Full-bodied flavor that brought exclamations of delight from the family. Mother was happy. So is every mother who cooks electrically... the economical electric cooker way! It costs approximately one cent per meal to cook in an electric cooker.

Shop today for your electric cooker. You will find them at the stores of merchants selling electrical things, and at electrical dealers and contractors. Prices are low and their service is beyond measure.
